Third Coast Capital Advisors Represents HASKELL Company in its Acquisition of FreemanWhite

Third Coast Capital Advisors represented Haskell Company in its acquisition of FreemanWhite, Inc. Our Strategic Acquisition Search and Advisory Services included identifying the target through our proprietary research and then facilitating a strategic dialog with its owner. We also advised our client on valuation, transaction structure and the negotiation and closing of the transaction.

Haskell Company, located in Jacksonville, Florida, is one of the nation's leading fully integrated design, engineering and construction firms providing services in the industrial, commercial, government and civil infrastructure markets. With approximately $600 million in annual revenue and over 2,000 completed projects to date, Haskell serves a multinational client base from strategic locations across the United States and in Mexico. The combination with FreemanWhite will create a 360-degree service offering that fully aligns healthcare business strategy, operational performance, planning, design, engineering, construction and post occupancy evaluation across the care continuum.

FreemanWhite, Inc., headquartered in Charlotte, North Carolina, is a design and consulting firm focused exclusively on the healthcare industry. FreemanWhite serves clients out of offices in Charlotte, Chicago, Nashville, and San Diego.
